

This Is the Badge of Honor

THE BUTTON on the lapel of every honorably discharged veteran of this war is a BADGE OF HONOR.

All Americans should learn to recognize and revere it.

The lapel button is a lifelong military uniform.

It replaces the khaki, green and blue of active service.

It proclaims that its owner has accepted the weightiest responsibility of citizenship in time of national peril.

It betokens memories of separation from family and friends; of perilous experiences on land, at sea and in the air, and of heartaches and heartbreaks that never may be revealed.

The honorable discharge insignia is a simple thing, just a gold plated plastic circle enclosing an eagle with out-stretched wings.

BUT WHAT IT TYPIFIES IS AS BIG AND AS INSPIRING AS THE HEART OF THE MAN WHO DID NOT HESITATE TO RISK EVERYTHING, INCLUDING HIS LIFE, FOR A BETTER, HAPPIER, MORE GODLY WORLD.

Honor the discharge button.

Salute it reverently and gratefully.

For its wearer is a hero.

New Landing Encircles Doomed Okinawa Japs

By ROBBIN COONS

GUAM, June 12 (AP)—A surprise American landing on the southern beaches of Okinawa, which would completely encircle the main Jap force trapped on a fortified plateau was reported today by Tokyo radio as the doomed Nips ignored an offer to negotiate a surrender.

With the landing, the enemy broadcast said, U. S. 10th Army troops "began an all-out offensive" to wind up the campaign against the estimated 15,000 Japs still alive. No mention of the reported landing has been made by U. S. headquarters.

"Destruction of all Jap resistance on this island is merely a matter of days," said Lt. Gen. Buckner, 10th Army commander, in an ultimatum to the Nipponese commander.

Attacking savagely, Maj. Gen. James L. Bradley's 96th Division killed hundreds of the enemy, sealing them in caves as they fought step by step up a steep northern cliff of the Yaeyu-Dake escarpment yesterday.

Fifty caves on the coral cliff were sealed with demolition blasts in two hours. In one large cave, remnants of a Jap company were caught by surprise before they could man their guns.

The Seventh Division's 184th Regiment cleared out 419 caves as they mopped up on the eastern flank. Three hundred caves were sealed with flame throwers and blasted with demolition charges by the 184th yesterday and 119 Sunday in a mop-up operation behind the division's 17th and 32d regiments.

It was the 96th Division's 381st Regiment which sealed a 100-foot cliff to a Yaeyu plateau top in a surprise assault launched at 4 a. m.

In the tough Orokubi peninsula pocket battle against remnants of the Jap naval landing force garrison, Maj. Gen. Shepherd's Sixth Marine Division killed 400 to 500 Japs on the peninsula yesterday.

Bradley's New York Division repulsed several Jap attempts to oust it from its foothold on the escarpment at a point 600 yards south of Yunagusuku.

The 17th Regiment of Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold's Seventh Division scaled a nearly perpendicular cliff to effect the other breach in the Aeyu-Dake escarpment.

Hopkins Back, Sees Truman

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Harry Hopkins flew into Washington today to report to President Truman on his reportedly successful mission to Moscow.

Arriving at the National Airport at 2:15 p. m., war time, Hopkins entered an automobile and was driven immediately to the White House. He was accompanied by Chip Bohlen, state department Russian expert.

Hopkins had no comment to make on his conferences with Stalin. He said he had left Mrs. Hopkins in Europe to visit Army hospitals.

GEN. GEORGE C. KENNEY Aids in Borneo Invasion

Japs Use Flame Tanks

MANILA, June 12 (AP)—The Sixth Army's 37th Division pressed to within striking distance today of the last major Jap stronghold in the Philippines.

The Buckeye Division, under Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beighler, consolidated positions a dozen miles from the main Cagayan valley on northern Luzon island yesterday after a drive northwest from Santa Fe against scattered, but at times determined, opposition, in which Jap flame-throwing tanks were encountered for the first time in the Philippines campaign.

Ribbentrop's Son Now Prisoner

PARIS, June 12 (INS)—U. S. 12th Army group headquarters announced today Rudolph von Ribbentrop, son of the former Nazi foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, had been found in a divisional prisoner of war cage in the Third Army area.

Also captured was Balduv von Schirach, Hitler youth leader. He was taken prisoner at Schwaz, Austria.

Jap Premier Supreme Ruler

By the Associated Press

The Jap Diet legislated itself practically out of the government of the empire today and adjourned a four-day session which convened Saturday to consider drastic measures to gird the nation for "the gravest crisis" of its history.

Final approval of the "wartime emergency measures" bill, which gives to Premier Suzuki power to rule virtually without restriction by Imperial decree, was given by the House of Peers.

Bitter opposition was registered by Lower House members to appease the opposition, Domei reported, the article authorizing the cabinet to "issue orders or take steps without parliamentary approval in a wide range of fields connected with the war effort," was rewritten, "clearly defining the powers" given the cabinet.

When the U. S. Seventh Fleet put the Australians and Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Gen. George C. Kenney of Brookline, Mass., MacArthur's air commander, ashore Sunday morning, the Japs were found largely fled before the terrifying weight of preliminary naval and air bombardments.

Gen. Kenney, a graduate of Brookline High School and M. I. T., was one of the few Army men who foresaw the future of air power. In March, 1943, he was personally commended by President Roosevelt for doing "so much with so little" in the first air battle of the Pacific. Gen. Kenney's sister, Mrs. L. Gordon Glazier, lives at 4 Egmont st., Brookline.

In the two days since sporadic machine gun and rifle fire and an occasional mortar burst have been the only reported enemy resistance.

Ground forces in the invasion of Borneo were entirely Australian but the U. S. fleet played a major role.

Some 40 miles south-west down the coast lies the Seria oil district, which before the war produced 6,000,000 barrels of petroleum annually. Thirty-five miles farther on is Miri, which produced 1,000,000 barrels a year.

Churchill Admits Bid to Petain

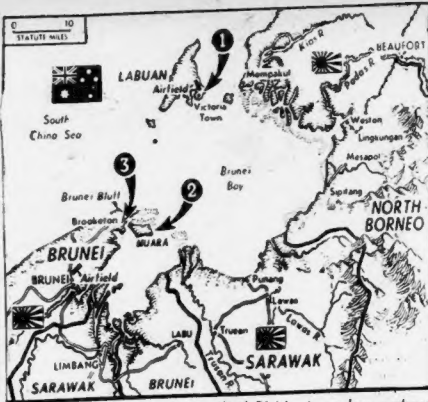

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill disclosed today Britain was in secret negotiation with the Vichy government in 1940, but asserted "Vichy was too much under German duress" to be able to give concrete assurances the French fleet would not be surrendered to the Nazis.

Churchill's disclosure was made in Commons, in apparent answer to Marshal Petain's assertion he was negotiating a secret treaty with Britain during the German occupation of France.

France Protests Anew on Syria

PARIS, June 12 (AP)—France has at two more protests to Great Britain against methods of British commanders in Syria.

The belief was growing here that Great Britain intends to supersede French authority completely in the Levant.

Mine-Sowing B29s Tighten Jap Blockade

By LEIF ERICKSON

GUAM, June 12 (AP)—American Superforts strengthened the blockade on enemy shipping today with two Jap reported mine-sowing raids over the empire's home waters.

Radio Tokyo reported B-24 Liberators had joined the long list of United States Army and Navy planes attacking the heart of the empire and the 21st Bomber Command announced its B-29s had already devastated 102.67 square miles of six of Japan's largest cities.

The enemy said 40 Superforts made the first mine-sowing raid at the entrance to the inland sea north of Kyushu, southernmost Jap island and later 30 others flew over Wakasa Bay, off the west coast of Honshu island, almost due west of Tokyo and Yokohama.

Tokyo, which a few days ago said Liberators were based on Okinawa airfields, reported two of the B-24s made their first flight over the homeland today. It was the sixth straight day in which U. S. Army and Navy commanders had sent B-29s, Army Mustangs or Thunderbolts, Marine Corsairs, or Navy charter planes to attack Japan.

Chinese Take Pingyang, Coast Highway Town

By SPENCER MOOSA

CHUNGKING, June 12 (AP)—The Chinese General News Agency reported today Chinese forces had captured the coastal highway town of Pingyang, 135 miles north of Fochow. The dispatch said the Japanese withdrew toward Wenchow.

The Chinese revealed also that across southern China to the southwest, Chinese forces fighting near the Indo-China border had been forced to withdraw from Chungchingfu.

The announcement said fighting continued near Chungchingfu after the withdrawal.

The Chinese high command said at Ishan, 43 miles west-northwest of Luchow, Chinese troops reported to have captured the town on June 10, were wiping out snipers.

However, Maj. Gen. Robert B. McClure's Chinese combat command headquarters at Kunming stated the Japs had re-entered the town June 11.

Chinese planes struck Jap airfields at the junction of the Tientsin, Pukow and Lungah railroads. Chinese planes later strafed and sank three enemy ships in the Yangtze.

(The Chinese Communist-operated radio at Yenan said Communist forces had captured two Jap-held towns, killing and taking prisoner numerous Japanese and Chinese puppet troops. The broadcast said one of the towns was Tungchow, 20 miles northeast of Nanking.)

2d Armored Division To Be First in Berlin

WIESBADEN, Germany, June 12 (AP)—An authoritative source said today the U. S. Second Armored Division would be the first of the American task force to go to Berlin and that it would move into the German capital at the same time that Russian troops occupy territory now held by the Americans. It was believed this would be accomplished in two or three weeks.

Gen. Ike's Big Day In London

By W. W. HERCHER

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower received London's highest honor—the honorary freedom of the city—today and heard Prime Minister Churchill call him a great commander with the capacity to direct armies and "to stir men's hearts."

Later King George invested Eisenhower with the Order of Merit at Buckingham Palace. The Allied commander is the first U. S. soldier to receive this honor. The King presented the insignia with its crossed swords and blue and crimson ribbon to Eisenhower informally at a tea.

With all the pomp and circumstance of empire, London paid homage to the American who led the Allied armies to victory. Speaking from a balcony draped in red and decorated with banners and laurel wreaths, Eisenhower told the throng:

"You have done something in cementing the bonds that must always remain between your country and mine and into which scope must be brought Russia, France, China and all the other great countries that have helped to whip the Nazis and we hope will quickly whip Japan."

Accepting the freedom of the city, Eisenhower said "humility must always be the portion of any man who receives acclaim earned in the blood of followers and the sacrifices of his friends."

The American general, seated in a carriage drawn by a pair of bays, was escorted in triumph from Temple Bar to the Guildhall, where the ceremonies took place.

The pavements near Temple Bar were jammed with people when the Allied chief arrived at high noon in a khaki-hued limousine marked "SHAEF Car No. 1," a semi-state landau with two cockaded coachmen on the drivers' seat waited for him.

Eisenhower waved genially and at times saluted to the happy crowd, from which shouts of "Good old Ike" went up frequently.

Amid all the colorful tradition of historic London, Eisenhower was presented with a sword in token of his victory over Germany. A weapon used by the Duke of Wellington at Waterloo was lent by a museum for the occasion, because a special sword being forged by the maker of the famous Stalingrad victory blade is not yet finished.

(Gen. Eisenhower will receive the "Croix de Liberation" from Gen. De Gaulle at an Arc de Triomphe ceremony in Paris, Thursday.)

DONNA REED
New Wedding Date Set

Film Starlet Donna Reed Delays Bridal

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, June 12—After secret plans had been made, and the date set for Friday, June 15, pretty Donna Reed, one of M-G-M's most promising young players, and Tony Owen, the agent, are postponing their wedding for a week.

Donna told me: "Yes, you are right in thinking we would be married the 15th. But it has been such a rush finishing my scenes in 'They Were Expendable,' and it would have been such a hurried wedding that Tony and I are waiting to get married until June 22. He has to leave on a short business trip and when he returns we will be married."

Donna's maid of honor will be her sister, Lavonne Mullinger, and Tony's best man will be Walter Van Pelt.

The bride came on the M-G-M lot five years ago just a schoolgirl fresh out from Iowa. One of the first people she met on the lot was make-up man William Tuttle and after a year's courtship they were married.

That marriage went on the rocks early this year and Donna surprised her friends by suing for divorce.

Dr. Truesdale Of 'Upside-Down' Knife Fame Dies

FALL RIVER, June 12—Dr. Philemon E. Truesdale, 70, famed for his successful operation in 1935 on Alice Jane McHenry to correct an "upside-down" stomach, died here today of a heart attack in the hospital he founded and which bears his name.

The operation of the McHenry girl roused nationwide controversy in medical circles and the attendant publicity was reported to be the reason the Massachusetts Medical Society, of which he was vice-president, failed to elect him president in 1935.

Besides being an expert on diaphragmatic hernias, medical term for "upside-down" stomach, Dr. Truesdale was a pioneer in the field of providing low-cost medical care.

In 1915, he founded Truesdale Clinic and several years later the Truesdale Hospital.

He was a graduate of Harvard Medical School, class of 1898, and served at Boston City Hospital and the Lying-In-Hospital before moving to Fall River.

He was a member of American Medical Ass'n, and once served on the board of examiners for surgery.

His widow, Minna, and seven children survive.

Murder on Park Avenue Indian and Singer Quizzed All Night

NEW YORK, June 12 (INS)—Hour after hour, through the night and into this morning, two key figures in the "murder on Park Avenue" mystery—an Indian chief and a singer—were questioned by police. Reed Lawton, $100,000 protegee of Mrs. Marion Langford, and Robert Redwing, 43-year-old Cherokee Indian, spent most of the night at the East 51st police station and were taken to the office of Asst. Dist. Atty. Jacob Grumet today for further questioning.

Redwing, an oil promoter, boasted yesterday he could solve the mysterious slaying of Albert Langford, wealthy textile manufacturer, within 10 days.

Lawton named Redwing and the Baroness de Chaney, also known as Beatrice Coleman, as the promoters of a courtship between Langford and the wealthy widow of Robert H. Grimes, three years ago, reputedly for a fee of $25,000.

Redwing and Lawton were questioned together.

The Cherokee told authorities Langford, shot to death a week ago yesterday in the foyer of his Park ave. apartment, was on his uppers when he met the widow.

Redwing also claimed Langford was in love with the baroness and that she had supported him. This, however, did not jibe with a statement made by the textile executive's attorney that Langford had a personal income of $15,000 a year.

Capt. Vincent J. Kiernan, who brought Redwing and Lawton together, reported:

"So far, neither of them has given information we consider very important, but we are still listening."

As Lawton and Redwing were taken to Grumet's office, something of the past of the mysterious Baroness de Chaney, now believed in California, was revealed.

She was born Berta Faber in Bistra, East Prussia, and claims to be related to the late Gen. von Hindenburg. She was a model in Germany before coming here. She was married Sept. 11, 1940, to John D. Coleman but they soon separated.

One of her acquaintances was Pola Negri, star of silent films. Now writing her autobiography at her midtown home, Miss Negri said today she "knew Beatrice slightly."

Redwing denied Lawton's story he had helped arrange the Langford courtship for the $25,000.

The Indian said he met Langford in the baroness' apartment. He had known her for a long time, he explained.

"She ran up and kissed and hugged me, and Langford almost dropped," said Redwing. "The looks he gave me showed he was torridly jealous of anyone else being around her."

Redwing also claimed Mrs. Coleman had told him that she had been supporting Langford.

"She said she hoped Bert could find some rich woman so he could get some money by marriage, because he was a good fellow and deserved it," Redwing said. "I gathered she was anxious to find such a wife because her own income was diminishing."

Mrs. Langford denies the Lawton-Redwing story.

As the questioning of the two men continued, police planned to re-enact the shooting of Langford in his apartment to determine if possible why his widow failed to hear the two death shots.

Back From Grave PW Wins Divorce, Loses Custody of 3

BROCKTON, June 12—Thrusting aside all reconciliation attempts, Sgt. Lawrence L. Schofield, 25, of Wollaston, a "back from the grave" prisoner of the Nazis, today was granted the divorce he sought before he sailed overseas in September, 1943.

Probate Judge Harry Stone granted the decree on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment, giving custody of three children to Mrs. Schofield and awarding an Army allotment of $120 monthly for their support.

The sergeant, white-haired from the terrors of German prison camps, was freed and returned here just in time to block a petition filed May 14 by which his wife sought to have his divorce suit set aside.

At that time Judge Stone took the case under advisement. Today, Schofield and the wife who had been informed months ago he was dead, sat on opposite sides of the courtroom when Judge Stone made his finding.

Schofield was found in a prison camp in Austria when U. S. troops overran that country shortly before V-E Day. It was not until he reached home he learned that the War Department had reported him killed in action.

He told reporters he has many more than the necessary points to get out of the Army, but wants to continue in military life.

VFW Probe Hits Vets' Hospitals

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—Three veterans' organizations differed today over conditions in veterans' hospitals with one reporting "sickening examples . . . of physical violence" and the other two finding conditions generally good.

Investigators for the Veterans of Foreign Wars said the physical violence had occurred in a veterans' hospital at Northport, N. Y.

The organization placed the result of a hospital-by-hospital inspection before the House veterans' committee investigating the Veterans' Administration.

It said 47 per cent of all veterans' hospitals provide inadequate hospitalization, it criticized VA management here and in the hospitals and reported a shortage of trained doctors, beds and facilities.

Simultaneously, two other ex-service organizations filed separate reports with the committee.

The American Legion said "on the average" condition in veterans' hospitals were found to compare favorably with civilian institutions and in some instances were better.

The Disabled American Veterans reiterated there should be more hospital construction but that "in general, conditions at veterans' hospitals are good." The DAV report had been made public last week.

The House veterans' committee, following publication of the reports, decided to investigate charges of "sickening physical violence" inflicted on veterans in the Northport hospital.

Chairman Rankin (D.) of Mississippi subpoenaed the officer in charge at Northport, Col. Louis Verdel, to appear Thursday.

Action followed testimony that 13 enlisted Negro soldiers and even white civilians had been convicted of mistreating patients at Northport hospital.

All three reports were filed with the veterans' committee investigating charges of inefficiency, inadequacy and neglect in government hospitals.

"Our first recommendation," said VFW, "is for this committee to set in motion an 'undercover' probe, assuring immunity to each complainant. Such a survey would do well to give the most careful analysis to conditions reportedly existing in neuropsychiatric hospitals, starting with Northport, L. I., N. Y., where sickening examples of the results of physical violence were witnessed by VFW investigators."

Probe Vet Charge

PITTSBURGH, June 12 (INS)—Veterans' administration officials and a VFW committee from Ohio today began an investigation into a report the body of a Buckeye veteran of World War I was sent home "without a stitch of clothing."

port the veterans organization said it investigated "numerous complaints of beating and mistreatment of patients."

In its general report VFW said "alleged mistreatment, neglect and physical abuse of patients is charged by patients in investigations of 14 hospitals."

Six hospitals were found with "unsatisfactory medical treatment," 13 are hampered by red tape, nine have inadequate recreational facilities.

The Legion report, while not so critical generally, expressed dissatisfaction with operation of the medical set-up and proposed the whole Veterans' Administration medical division be reorganized.

It said much of the "present trouble" was due to an attempt to operate under a system set up to handle a potential load of slightly fewer than 5,000,000 veterans where the agency now is faced with the problem of handling a potential total of 18,000,000. It said "presently, the veterans hospitals are suffering from lack of medical personnel, red tape, staff dissension at some points, overcrowding and such low pay scales that staff morale is adversely affected."

The VFW and the American Legion presented a digest of conditions in the various hospitals, including:

Newington, Ct. (AL)—Treatment and care of patients excellent. Conditions otherwise good except there is "occasional staff indifference to patients." (VFW)—Delay in receiving ward excessive; obsolete medical equipment (replacement of equipment has been authorized.)

Togus, Me. (AL)—Generally fair to good. (VFW)—No report. Bedford, Mass. (AL)—Transportation poor; recreation poor, food quality, quantity excellent; treatment and care, average poor; otherwise generally fair to good. (VFW)—Investigators expressed belief too much Veterans' Administration red tape, but said general care good.

Northampton, Mass. (AL)—Generally good; (VFW)—Same as Bedford.

Rutland Heights, Mass. (AL)—Generally good, (VFW)—Same as Bedford.

West Roxbury, Mass. (AL)—Buildings and grounds poor; other conditions good. (VFW)—Same as Bedford.

White River Junction, Vt. (AL)—No canteen, but other facilities rated good to excellent. (VFW)—Delay in receiving ward excessive; periods of hospitalization too long.

Bride Hides in Wooden Box, Towed to France in Glider

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—The story of how a 21-year-old brunette hid in a packing case and was towed to France aboard a glider in order to be with her new husband, an American Air Force officer, was told today in Waltham Abbey Police Court.

Pope Pius' Vain Plea to Duce to Avert War Told

VATICAN CITY, June 12 (AP)—The Vatican, in an 18-page pamphlet outlining the Holy See's efforts to keep Italy out of war, disclosed today Pope Pius XII personally appealed to Mussolini in a letter April 24, 1940, to "spare our and your beloved country such a great calamity."

The letter was written on May 13, less than a month before Italy declared war. The pamphlet said Dino Alfieri, newly-named Italian envoy to Berlin, told the Pope Mussolini was "irritated" at the Pontiff's telegrams of sympathy to the low country rulers following the German invasion. Alfieri, who had been Italian ambassador to the Holy See, saw the Pope then in a farewell audience.

Mussolini replied six days later, the pamphlet said, with a declaration "if Italy should take up arms tomorrow it will be as clear as the sun to everyone that honor and interest in the future will absolutely demand her to do it."

The Duce asserted the history of the Church demonstrated it had never accepted a formula of peace "at any cost," of "peace without justice," of peace which might irreparably compromise the destiny of the Italian people.

The Pope, the pamphlet said, replied he merely had done his duty and "we are not even afraid of being sent to a concentration camp."

The Pope was particularly interested in keeping Italy out of the war because it was the seat of the Vatican, said the pamphlet. "So long as Italy remained at peace," it explained, "the communications of the Catholic world with its center could have, despite war, continued to operate with a certain normalcy."

The Pope, it continued, was aware "an Italy which remained in dignified neutrality could have rendered valuable services to the cause of peace among the peoples."

It was the second time this month the Vatican, perhaps in answer to Moscow criticism of its attitude toward the war and Fascism, had made pronouncements concerning its position.

Sailors Admit Hub Burglaries

Two teen-age sailors, arrested after attempting to cash war bonds stolen while they were AWOL 70 days from Newport, R. I., confessed in the police lineup today to a series of breaks in North End stores and restaurants.

Lt. James V. Crowley said police would seek warrants in municipal court today against the pair, who are also suspected of more than a score of breaks in the Greater Boston area since they took French leave from the Newport base more than two months ago.

The two admitted in the lineup they had stolen $2500 in War Bonds and $900 cash after entry of a Hanover st., North End, hardware store through a skylight. Efforts to cash some of the bonds in Andover led to their arrest.

British Vote Bonus For Each Child

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—Benefits of one dollar weekly for every child after the first will be given universally to British families under terms of a revised family allowances bill passed in the House of Commons.

The gala, star-studded performance, headlined by Eddie Cantor as master of ceremonies, will feature top-ranking musical stars, including Benny Goodman, the clarinet-master "King of Swing," and Leonard Sues and his trumpet.

Liberated officers and men who survived the horrors of Jap prison camps, headed by Boston's hero chaplain, Maj. John J. Dugan, S.J., will be among other guests of honor. Gov. Tobin and Mayor Kerrigan will greet the audience in the name of the state and city.

The musical program will give their respective fans an opportunity to settle the question as to whether the silvery notes of Sues' trumpet or the reedy appeal of Benny's clarinet attain the greater firepower when it comes to "sending" the listener.

Tickets went on sale at the Garden yesterday for the entertainment round-up which will bring together stars of stage, screen and radio in a tribute to the heroes of Bataan, both living and dead.

To avoid being disappointed, those planning to attend the gala show are advised to obtain tickets as soon as possible. Tickets are priced at $1, $2 and $3, plus tax.

Names of Hollywood movie stars who will appear at the Bataan Show will be announced in these newspapers later in the week.

The show will be held on the eve of the world premiere of RKO's "Back to Bataan," with the two-fold purpose of saluting the epic film story of Bataan's heroes while providing funds for a downtown civic center for GI wives and mothers.

Eddie Cantor will bring along his entire radio show cast, including Sues, one of the nation's great trumpeters; Nora Martin, Bea Walker and Fred Martel, vocalist. Goodman likewise will stage his entire show from the RKO-Boston Theater, where he will be starring that week.

The show also will feature stellar acts from Boston night clubs and hotels.

Burglar Elf in Lynn How Safe Is Looted Puzzle for Cops

Lynn sleuths' were very pensive today. They had a mystery to solve and couldn't tell whether they were dealing with the supernatural or some elf that had turned crooked and become a safe-cracker.

First to be befuddled was Patrolman John Malone. He discovered a small panel in the rear door of the Elite Cafe had been broken. Malone decided the hole was too small for a human being to crawl through. The door was locked and it could not have been unlocked by means of the hole. Other doors and windows were locked. Perhaps some roisterer had merely heaved a dormick at the panel in passing.

Charles Vallas, one of the owners, was advised. He opened the place. In the basement he found a small safe had been chiseled open. Missing were two diamond rings, a watch and $700.

The best brains in the Lynn police department are struggling with this one.

She Bought Home and Car, Divorcee's Answer to Suit

Tending babbies, making curtains and running a dress shop proved profitable enough for blonde and beautiful Mrs. Tjein Berman, 33, of Warren st., Roxbury, to buy a two-family house, furnish it attractively and also purchase a new car.

So she testified today in Suffolk Superior Court in contesting a bill of equity brought by her ex-husband, Benjamin Berman of Phillips st., West End, self-admitted former bookie, who seeks return of the property.

The couple separated more than a year ago and last October she was granted a divorce on grounds of cruel and abusive treatment by Judge Wilson. Under an agreement she receives $15 weekly support for her two sons, David, 11, and Robert, 8.

But in his latest suit Berman told Judge Greenhalge the home, furniture and automobile all came from his earnings while he was a number pool operator—a job that paid him $150 weekly for many years.

Berman testified he purchased the car and the home and then placed them in his wife's name to protect them against creditors. Some of the furniture, he contended, belonged to his mother.

Although admitting he had been a bookie for a great number of years, the petitioner told the court he never had been arrested on gambling charges. The case is continuing.

Malden Man Struck By Car in Revere

Bruce M. Stewart, 48, of Mountaint ave., Malden, was taken to Massachusetts General Hospital by Metropolitan police today after he was struck by a street car at Ocean ave. and Beaver st., Revere. Police said the car was operated by Elmer LaFreniere of Broadway, Revere.

Dorchester Fire Drives Out 11

Eleven persons, including four children, were driven from their homes today when a two-alarm fire swept three dwellings in Robey and Batchelder sts., Dorchester, and threatened to spread to several other houses.

Carolina Aboarn, semi-invalid occupant of 101 Robey st., where the fire started, was helped to safety by John McCabe, a neighbor summoned by Mrs. Myrtle Wentzell, who discovered the flames.

Others forced from 101 Robey st., were William Plummer, Mrs. Caroline Carroll, Mrs. Dorothy Collins and her three children, Janice, 14 months, Ronald and Allen.

The flames leaped to a vacant three-story house at 103-105 Robey st., and then to the rear of a house at 1-3 Batchelder st. Driven from the Batchelder st. dwelling were Mrs. Grace Toner, Mrs. Effie Trask, Mildred Kaczan, Mrs. Wanda Palasck and her son, Edward, 14 months.

Deputy Chief Dennis Coughlin estimated damage at $5500. Fireman Joseph Scott, 43, of Day st., Jamaica Plain, of Engine 13, was overcome by smoke and treated at City Hospital.

Grasso, is serving a two-year sentence for neglect of his wife, Frances, and their seven youngsters, ranging in age from one to 11. On August 25, 1943 Grasso married Anna M. Austin of Somerville.

54 Car Violations

Joseph Fine, 48, of Elm Hill ave., Roxbury, was told by Judge Morton in superior court today he should give up driving an automobile.

The jurist, finding Fine guilty of driving so as to endanger, noted it was his 54th automobile violation. He fined Fine $50 and said:

"This man is one of the worst offenders I have seen. He ought to be off the highways. I feel like writing to the registry myself."

Fine was in court for knocking over the baby carriage—baby included—of Mrs. Marie Guerrere, Trenton st., East Boston, Feb. 26, at the intersection of Porter and Paris sts., East Boston.

2 of 5 Jailed In $672 Theft

Five members of a North End gang were sentenced by Judge Brown in superior court today after pleading guilty to charges in connection with $672 larceny from the Boston Jewelry Co., Cooper st., North End, May 3.

The five who figured in the snatching of a bag containing the money from Amelia Vannucci, employee of the company, while she was on her way to a bank, were:

Charles Giuliano, 20, Battery st., one year in the House of Correction for larceny from the person; Joseph Solimino, 31, Hanover st., six months as an accessory before and after the fact; John Mangano, 23, South Margin st., accessory after the fact, six months suspended sentence; Palmirino Ardolino, 23, Hanover st., accessory after the fact, six months suspended, and Salvatore Turdino, 23, accessory before the fact, six months suspended.

King's Majority Cut in Canada

OTTAWA, June 12 (AP).—Prime Minister King's government was back in office today for another term, late returns from yesterday's general election giving it a slim majority in the new House of Commons with the aid of 45 straight Liberals and eight supporting Independent-Liberals from the French-speaking Province of Quebec.

King and his party, who have governed Canada continuously since 1935 and for 18 of the years since 1921, won easily over their nearest rivals, the Progressive Conservatives.

The Liberals won 118 of the new Parliament's 245 seats and were leading in two others. With eight Quebec Independent-Liberals elected, this gave the government a majority of at least 126 seats.

Ask Delay on State Commerce Study

Joseph P. Kennedy, head of the special commission to investigate the desirability of establishing a State Department of Commerce, announced today the members had voted to ask the Legislature for an extension of time to file a report, the date to be Dec. 5.

Originally it had been planned for the commission to report June 15. The commission will also ask the Legislature for $7500 more to complete the study.

Kennedy announced spokesmen for the newspapers would be the first citizens heard in a series of public hearings. Bankers will be given an opportunity to express themselves next.

Civil Service Hit For Barring Vet

Action of the State Civil Service Commission in disqualifying a Marine Corps veteran for appointment to the Boston police department, because he had lost a little finger, is contrary to federal policy and at variance with federal Civil Service regulations, City Councilor Thomas J. Hannon of Dorchester told the state commission today.

The federal government is employing more than 1000 veterans who suffered more serious wounds in battle, and injuries of the same type, Hannon declared.

Huge U. S. Loss In War Materiel

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, June 12 (AP)—American forces lost 865,056 weapons and 81,379 vehicles, including tanks, in 11 months of fighting on the western front—from D-Day to VE-Day, communications zone headquarters announced today.

These losses do not include hundreds of items of engineering and special purpose equipment ranging from steam shovels to bridges, 18 of which were lost after construction.

Losses included 861,326 small arms and automatic weapons, 2263 artillery pieces, 958 tank destroyers and 509 anti-aircraft guns.

Losses included 13,056 tanks and other armored conveyances, 66,698 motor vehicles, not including trailers, and 1625 amphibious vehicles.

In addition to 18 bridges, engineering units incurred such losses as 27 truck-mounted cranes, 17 concrete mixers, 25 power shovels, 265 tractors of various types and 377 trailers and semi-trailers.

Sec. Connelly Ends Visit to Clinton

CLINTON, June 12 — After three days of rest at the home of his mother, Matthew J. Connelly will leave here tonight to resume his duties as confidential secretary to President Truman.

The secretary, with his wife, Doris, and son, Robert, 9, arrived Sunday.

Connelly declined to comment on national affairs save to say his next big assignment would be accompanying the President to the San Francisco Peace Conference.

Veto Question Up For Vote In Conference

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
SAN FRANCISCO, June 12 (AP)—Both sides in the United Nations debate over the big-power veto decided today that the time had arrived to stop talking and start voting.

On this point Foreign Minister Herbert V. Evatt of Australia and Senator Tom Connally of the United States, opposing leaders, agreed. It appeared that the veto formula would be approved, but with several countries, which do not like it, not balloting.

The formula requiring that the United States, Russia, Britain, China and France, as members of the proposed World Security Council, would have to concur before the council could take any step toward settling an international dispute—except that any nation party to a dispute would refrain from voting on peaceful settlement measures.

The main issue before the United Nations Conference committee which has the formula in hand is an amendment by Evatt. It would eliminate the concurrence requirement, and therefore the veto, from peaceful settlements. It does not, however, challenge the concurrence requirement on use of force by the council.

Funeral Mass For Slain Boy

A solemn requiem mass was sung in St. Lazarus Church today for Francis L. Ricci, 14, of Leyden st., East Boston, Boston Latin School honor student, accidentally shot while police were quelling a riot at an East Boston carnival Saturday night.

Classmates served as pallbearers. Members of the Boy Scouts at St. Lazarus, of which Ricci was one, were honorary pallbearers. Parents and children of the neighborhood were present in large numbers.

Ricci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvio Ricci, was buried in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

In the meantime, as police investigated the riot and the stabbing of Patrolman Robert L. Hamlett, Vincent Passariello, 17, of Bennington st., East Boston, was held in $5000 after pleading not guilty in East Boston district court to being an accessory after the fact in the stabbing.

The alleged knife wielder, Salvatore Viola, 19, of Bennington st., who was wounded in the melee, has been released from the hospital and charged with assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to commit murder.

New Polish Rule To Be Formed

LONDON, June 12 (AP)—A Moscow dispatch said today that a mission assigned the task of reorganizing the Polish provisional government would meet soon in Moscow with representatives of the Warsaw government and Poles from outside the country. Foreign missions in Moscow indicated the Big Three had achieved a basis of understanding on the Polish problem and that the situation generally was improved, while in London a member of the Polish moderate group said he believed Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former premier of the Polish government in exile, would be invited to discuss the re-organization.

Tie Vote Snags Fair Jobs Bill

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—The House rules committee failed by a 6-6 vote today to clear for action legislation creating a permanent body for employment practices commission.

The vote was on motion of Rep. Delaney (D., N.Y.) that the committee send the measure to the floor for a decision in conformance with a request last week by President Truman to Chairman Sabath (D., Ill.).

While Sabath indicated a later effort would be made to keep the measure alive, Rep. Cox (D., Georgia), an opponent, told the reporters "the bill is dead."

'Doorbell Gang' Trio Sentenced

The "Doorbell Gang," youthful criminals with a penchant for daylight housebreaking, came to the end of its road today when two of the teenage members received 7-to-10-year sentences in Middlesex Superior Court and an 18-year old girl conspirator was placed on probation for two years.

William A. Baranow, 18, Raven st., Dorchester, and George E. Duncan, 19, Gay Head st., Jamaica Plain, were sentenced by Judge Leary after pleading guilty to breaking and entering and larceny.

Catherine Nolan, 18, Boston st., South Boston, was given the probation. A fourth member of the gang is sought.

The defendants pleaded guilty to breaking into the home of Isadore Freedman, Graylyn rd., Newton, April 24 and stealing a pistol, suit case and jewelry.

Their technique was to steal a car and tour the suburbs, ringing doorbells of homes. If no one answered, the young thieves would try to break into the house.

The West Coast was described as the re-oriented "hot bed of Communism" by Rep. Rankin (D.) of Mississippi, credited with establishing the body to probe subversive movements as a standing committee of the House.

"The setting up of Communist headquarters in California warrants the main attention of the committee," said Rankin. "It indicates that Moscow has attained its objectives in Europe and is now turning its subversive forces in the Pacific theater of war."

The boldness of outlining the new Red party-line in a Communist meeting in Hollywood, calling for indoctrinating of servicemen, developing a tie-in with the White House and propagandizing for postwar lend-lease for Soviet Russia, was linked by Rankin with the Communist influence in government bureaus.

"President Truman should take a tip from George Washington and put only Americans on guard," declared the Mississippi Congressman.

"He should not only clean out these traitors in the State Department who have been stealing secret documents for foreign governments, but he should clean such elements out of all other branches of the government and put a stop to the War Department's commissioning subversive individuals into the United States Army," he said.

"Every Communist in America is dedicated to the overthrow of this government," continued Rankin, "and yet they are being commissioned into our army by the War Department and placed in positions where they can do the most harm if and when it becomes necessary to exercise their sabotage proclivities in order to serve their alien masters."

The first open hearing of the new House Un-American Activities Committee is scheduled for next week when an inquiry into Communist employes in OFA and UNRRA will be launched.

Willis Hits Back at Tobin On Tax Issue

The need for new taxes was questioned today by House Speaker Frederick B. Willis in reply to Gov. Tobin's criticism of the legislature's failure to pass revenue measures he recommended in his annual budget message.

Willis pointed out that dog racing dates were cut by the state racing commission, upon Tobin's recommendation, when the legislature was passing measures to increase taxes on horse and dog racing.

The reduction of dog racing dates from the 200 days allowed by law to the 100 urged by Tobin will result in a loss of more than $240,000 in revenue used to finance old age assistance, officials estimated.

"This necessarily brings up the question whether new taxes are needed at this time," particularly in the general fund and surplus of $6,000,000 in the highway fund," Willis declared.

"Cutting dog track dates will deplete state revenue infinitely more than it will cause losses to owners of the tracks," he said.

Referring to Tobin's charge that the legislature's failure to abolish state taxes on cities and towns has resulted in a surplus of $24,000,000, Willis declared: "It's hard to reason that there would be no surplus today if it were not bequeathed to the present administration through the efficiency and businesslike conduct of state affairs over the past six years by a chief executive and other state officials who were not of the present Governor's political party."

"The $19,900,000 surplus in the general fund, in my opinion, cannot be attributed to the failure of this legislature to eliminate the State tax. For matter, this legislature has turned back to cities and towns from the highway fund, the equivalent of payments these communities would have received from the state tax."

Willis said he issued the statement because "I believe that people of Massachusetts have a right to know these facts so there will be no danger of any misinterpretation political or otherwise."

Gov. Tobin was in Washington and not available for comment.

Stuart Bridal Today

—weatherman permitting—follows the marriage ceremony this afternoon of Elizabeth Stuart, daughter of the Willoughby H. Stuarts, Jr., of Cambridge, and L. Mortimer Pratt, Jr., of Chestnut Hill. The 3 o'clock ceremony, at which the Rev. Cornelius Trowbridge officiates, takes place in the picturesque Christ Church, Cambridge, and the small family reception follows at the Stuarts' home on Reservoir rd.

Elizabeth, who with her sister, Peggy, has run the Army and Navy Officers' Housing Bureau on Arlington St. since its inception, chose white satin trimmed with family lace, a tulle veil held in place with a cluster of orange blossoms and a bouquet of lilies of the valley and two white orchids.

Her father gives her in marriage and her sister, Peggy, gowned in pale blue organdy with a matching headdress and bouquet of pink roses and delphinium, is her only attendant.

Arthur W. Pope is Mr. Pratt's best man and the ushers are Francis H. Cummings, Fred B. Lund, Jr., Lt. Hoyt Watson, Boston, Charles B. Balch, Jamaica Plain, Lt. Col. W. B. Stuart, brother of the bride, and Herbert W. Pratt, brother of the groom.

The bride attended Bryn Mawr and made her debut in London where she was presented at the Court of St. James. The bridegroom, a graduate of Noble and Greenough and Harvard, is commodore of the Prout's Neck Yacht Club and a member of The Country Club and the Eastern Yacht Club.

VACATION NOTES: Mrs. C. Chauncy Gray of Cambridge and her mother, Mrs. T. C. De Friez of Brookline, are leaving today for a week in Nantucket.

Also Nantucket—bound June 21 will be Mrs. Myron Heller of Brookline who plans to spend five or six weeks on the attractive island. Her daughter, Connie, graduated from Beaver Country Day School last week and will spend the month of July at Lake Placid before joining volunteer workers at the Children's Hospital. Connie will enter Barnard College in September and will make her bow to society at a tea dance during the November holidays. Lt. and Mrs. Frederick S. Troy, Jr. (Mary Favorite), have left Boston to spend the summer in Larchmont, N. Y., near his station. Their one-year-old daughter is with them.

A SORT of get-acquainted-with-your-fellow-workers party will be held Monday evening at Symphony Hall when over 1000 volunteers of the Greater Boston United War Fund, their families and friends, will attend "Red Feather Night at the Pops." Several dinner parties will precede the concert.

More JVA Farm Workers Wanted

Roy E. Moser, state supervisor of the emergency farm program of Mass. State College, once again urges all Junior Victory Army members to register as Victory Farm Volunteers.

To register boys and girls should contact the farm labor assistant in the county agricultural extension office nearest their homes. Suffolk County boys and girls should contact John B. Casey, headmaster, Jamaica Plain High School.

Cold and rainy weather has resulted in need for very little extra help this far, but warm weather causes plants to shoot up quickly. With them will be lots of weeds, and many crops will be ready for harvest at the same time. So Victory Farm Volunteers are asked to stand by, ready to answer the call for help in weeding, cultivating and harvesting.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and full address to Junior Victory Army, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well wrapped in your letter.

VETERANS—OR VICTIMS?

THROUGH the actions of labor bosses and of the Department of Labor at Washington, veterans returning from the wars are being given some raw deals.

Under the Selective Service Act, veterans are to have their old jobs back, with no penalties.

But labor bosses are insisting that "seniority rights" of union members WHO DID NOT GO TO WAR COME FIRST.

Furthermore, strikes are being called in war plants to require veterans to "join the union" BEFORE THEY CAN GO TO WORK.

And the Labor Department has taken it upon itself to "interpret" the Selective Service Act in THE LABOR BOSSES' FAVOR.

THE WHOLE SITUATION RAISES THE QUESTIONS WHETHER CONGRESS OR THE BUREAUCRATS ARE TO MAKE THE LAWS AND WHETHER THE GOVERNMENT OR THE LABOR BOSSES ARE TO ENFORCE THE LAWS.

Or, if the government is to function as the enforcing power, shall it be the Selective Service system, charged by Congress with the duty of re-uniting the veteran and his job, or the Department of Labor, which has no statutory status in the matter?

IN ONE FLAGRANT case at least, the Federal Courts have been asked to intervene.

This is the case of Abraham Fishgold. This young American was permanently employed as a skilled welder in a Brooklyn shipyard before his induction into the armed forces.

Fishgold was honorably discharged from military duty and was "temporarily" reinstated in his "permanent" job last August.

Since then he has been laid off several times on the ground that there was not enough work to go round and that, under a union contract, non-veterans with greater seniority get preference over men of lower seniority, INCLUDING VETERANS.

Col. Arthur V. McDermott, director of Selective Service in New York city, asked the United States attorney to bring a test case in the veteran's behalf.

MEANWHILE, 7000 workers in three of the Higgins shipyards in Louisiana went on strike, interrupting the production of invasion boats which are desperately needed for the war with Japan.

A union contract affecting the yards was cancelled recently UNDER A RULING OF THE WAR LABOR BOARD.

To expedite production, as explained by Mr. A. J. Higgins, the company began employing returning veterans "without forcing them to join any union."

A union leader arrogantly described this as "magnanimously giving them the right to work without becoming members of the unions."

AND THE STRIKE WAS CALLED WITHOUT AN ELECTION—A STRIKE TO IMPOSE COMPULSORY UNION MEMBERSHIP UPON WAR VETERANS TO WHOM CONGRESS HAD SUPPOSEDLY "GUARANTEED" THE RIGHT TO EARN A LIVING AS FREE MEN.

This muddled problem of justice for returning veterans had better be solved quickly.

It is not going to do Congress, or bureaucrats, or labor bosses, any good to have several million service men coming home from overseas and bitterly asking themselves:

"WHAT HAVE WE BEEN FIGHTING FOR?"

NEVER TOO LATE

IT is inspiring to find many mothers and not a few grandmothers among this year's public school graduates.

Their good example should be followed more generally.

We have educational opportunities for everyone.

There is practically no limit to the scholastic heights the average person can reach if he has the right kind of persistence.

THOMAS MIDDLETON.

IT WAS chilly yesterday around our way. Nevertheless, our pup jumped into a nearby pond and swam around merrily for some time. He emerged quite pleased with himself. The last time he went in swimming on a cold day he had chills and we had to give him some pills and a shot of the whiskey to straighten him out. So I had to reprimand him for exposing himself to more chills. He was quite downcast about the reprimand. He seemed to be saying to himself: "Here I do everything I can to please that guy yet he hurls me out. The least little thing I couldn't stand looking at his tragic expression so I had to make up with him requesting that he 'try to be a better dog' in the future. A dog's life is so short there should be a minimum of sad moments in it. Still, if you are too easy on the rascals they take advantage of you and do things that are not for their own good."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS:

Q—Several sergeants were talking about the age-old question of what film star would be the best to be wrecked on a desert island with.

One sergeant said you really couldn't tell which star would be the best desert island companion by just looking at her in pictures. You would have to know her personally. You seem to know the stars. Who would be your choice?

A—Listen, Sergeant, I am a married man. Therefore in answer to your query as to what film beauty I would like to be alone with on a desert island I must say: "No comment." However, our Horses & Women experts who have made a study of this matter claim the best star to be with on such an occasion would be Marlene Dietrich. Marlene can cook.

HUSBANDS, ETC.: A law-to-keep-a-husband-happy, expert says a wife should make it a practice of giving her husband "unexpected kisses and hugs." Keep that in mind, lady. Sneak up on your husband tomorrow morning and give him an unexpected hug. First, be sure he isn't shaving at the time.

LUCKY DAY: Am asked what is the lucky day for Cancer women. The stargazers say it is Monday. The astrologers claim Cancer women make good home managers. Also, that the conversation of a Cancer woman is usually dominated by accounts of things that happen in their homes or to members of their family. They rarely discuss what is going on in the outside world.

BLIND DATES: War hero sergeant, Jake Lindsay, met Beverly Hargreaves, the girl who became his wife, on a blind date. Quite a few happy married couples seem to have first met the same way. I wonder what the percentage is of blind dates that turn out satisfactorily. Only yesterday I heard a young woman complaining about how she had been disappointed in a man she had met on a blind date the night before. "He was more of a wash-out than the Johnstown flood," she said bitterly.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: If you can remember a comic strip called Lady Bountiful you can call yourself a young old-timer. . . . Are the kids two and three years old smarter now than those of the same age 20 years ago? Seems to me they are. Yesterday a youngster toddling along said to me: "Hi! How's everything?" I asked the kid's mother how old he was. She said: "Not quite three years old."

STEAKS: A Detroit butcher is reported growing wealthy selling horse meat steak at 18 cents a pound. The easiest place to get a regular steer steak is Chicago. The hardest, New York City. I mean Manhattan is the hardest if you haven't a hefty bankroll.

WASHINGTON SCENE

By GEORGE DIXON

(Distributed by King Features Synd., Inc. Reproduction prohibited.)

WASHINGTON, June 12—Baby, that fellow Truman is really something! In the most casual, offhand, manner in the world he can knock you right on your piazza.

Like a lot of others, I thought at first it was accidental—the nonchalant way in which he drops hot ones, I mean. But we know better now. It's the result of careful timing.

It's a great technique. He starts off, in his slow Missouri way, with all the relatively unimportant stuff he has. The ladies and gentlemen of the press become more and more droopy. Half of us put our pencils away, figuring we're not going to get anything worth writing.

Then—just as we're at our droopiest—WHAMBO!

HE GAVE the first big demonstration of this a couple of weeks ago. He got off a batch of comparative trivialities—then quietly announced that Attorney General Biddle, Secretary of Labor Perkins, and Postmaster General Walker had resigned, and had been replaced.

We were more or less waiting for him the other day—but still he caught us. We were completely lulled by a load of routine material when he announced that the Administration's hottest potato—the Veterans' Administration—had been mashed.

He said as a seeming afterthought—that Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, the big storm center, had resigned and had been replaced by one of our great war heroes, Gen. Omar Bradley.

He added, dryly, that he thought the veterans of World War II would prefer a soldier of their own war handling their affairs.

As a veteran of World War I, he said, he would not have relished direction by a Spanisht-American war soldier.

Naturally, the announcement produced a furore. The President pretended surprise as if he couldn't understand the excitement.

But his eyes were laughing—hard. He went back to insignificant stuff. Reporters with deadlines to meet yawned and fidgeted. At last one couldn't stand it any longer. In the middle of another colleague's question he suddenly belatedly:

"Thank you, Mr. President."

And everybody rushed for the door.

A PRESIDENTIAL announcement, which failed to create much stir, was that W. Stuart Symington, an industrialist from a place out West called St. Louis, Missouri, had been appointed to replace former Sen. Guy Gillette as chairman of the Surplus War Property Board, a Washington society, however, will be more than academically interested because Mr. Symington's wife, Evie, is quite a girl.

She is the daughter of Rep. James W. Wadsworth of New York and a niece of the late Mrs. Payne Whitney.

This, to carry it a step farther, makes her a cousin of Col. John Hay (Jack) Whitney and his comparatively new missus, Betsy Cushing Roosevelt Whitney, who used to be married to Jimmy Roosevelt.

I wonder if my nitwit uncle on my nephew's side can follow all this?

"Stu" Symington and his Evie were ornaments of Manhattan's night-blooming set until they moved to St. Louis seven or eight years ago.

Mrs. Symington can sing like a whiz. In fact, she used to sing professionally. She was about the only one of the blight of so-called society night club singers who could really sing, having a lovely, deep husky voice that does things to you—means also me.

Evie's mother and Mrs. Payne Whitney were sisters, which makes Evie a descendant of John Hay, one of our most brilliant Secretaries of State.

Maybe Stettinius will want her autograph!

REP. CARL HINSHAW of California came off the House floor the other day, laughing fit to bust.

The House had just adopted the joint committee resolution to give members extra expenses of $2500 a year.

"I won't tell you which member said this," Mr. Hinshaw guffawed, "because it would hurt him with the voters back home. But it was a woin."

"This fellow was one of the loudest, most bitter opponents of the $2500; denounced it as a grab. But when we finally passed the resolution he mopped his brow and exclaimed: 'Thank God, we lost!'"

HOLLYWOOD, June 12 — "Keep an eye out for 'Bad Man's Territory,'" said Bossman Charles Koerner of RKO. "It's a potential 'Cimarron,' made in the same locale." Whether it is another "Cimarron" or not this wild and woolly yarn by Jack Natteford and Luci Ward real life characters in a Wild West Blue Book. Randy Scott will do his hard riding among such elite bandits as the James Boys, the Daltons, plus Cattle Annie and Belle Starr.

"Bad Man's Territory" gets its title from three counties in Oklahoma—a strip of Texas, Cimarron County and Beaver County—spots that from 1850 to 1889 were parts of no State and free of federal jurisdiction. This made it a haven and heaven for the bad boys who flocked there with no one to answer to but the Indians—who didn't give a war whoop.

MUST HAVE BEEN mighty flattering to Vicki Baum to receive so many offers for her serial, "Beyond This Journey," which is appearing in a current magazine. Seems like every studio wanted it, so I suppose Henry Ginsberg can't be blamed for feeling elated that Paramount bought it. He hasn't decided whether to put Alan Ladd or Ray Milland in the lead, but has decided to have Lou Edelman, his new producer take it over.

I CERTAINLY don't want to do two such good friends of mine as Clark Gable and Joan Blondell wrong. Both say they have never had drama tug the t. Maybe it was a blonde who looked like Joan for I certainly thought it was Joan. Both insist they are very good friends on the set, but that's as far as it goes—and there is no romance. With Joan's heart belonging elsewhere, and Clark's interest elsewhere, an innocent item caused a lot of excitement.

THE UNPREDICTABLE
and always fascinating Tallulah Bankhead has the Hollywood urge again and you needn't be surprised if her next stopping place is Paramount. She is reading the script of Heywood Brown's "Snafeld," with the idea of making it with Sonny Tufts.

WAS VERY GLAD to hear from Edmund Goulding in New York, with news about his play, but nary a word about deserting Hollywood for Broadway, as has been printed. Eddie comes up with the word he has signed June Havoc and Edmund Lowe to co-star in his play "The Ryan Girl," formerly titled "Last Sunday." It's a modern "drummer" of the big city.

WNAJ SHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANCHO DUM: Jane Fonda, who still wears a cast on her leg from that Lisbon crash, goes over seas again. I call that being a good sport; the frosty woman in "The Clock" is Angela Lansbury's mother. Her screen name is Maya Magill; praise goes to Leslie Fenton for being the first to answer Maj. Plenty of Crumbs

By MARTHA LEE

A CHECK of recipe books will reveal many recipes calling for fine dry crumbs. Bread and crackers have usually been considered the sources for these crumbs, but do you know that crisp, ready-to-eat cereal crumbs are more easily prepared and may be used in any recipe which specifies fine dry crumbs?

It's as easy as 1, 2, 3, and here are some simple rules to remember for cereal crumbs:

CRUMB FACTS

4 cups corn flakes yield 1 cup of fine crumbs.

3 cups oven-popped rice or wheat flakes yield 1 cup fine crumbs.

To make crumbs:

Measure cereal into food chopper, spread it on the surface. Roll over with roller and roll up.

Press down firmly; open food chopper; roll over, crushing with roller.

For very fine crumbs, put cereal into food grinder and sift.

MORE USES

For cooking fish, chops or chops and cereal crumbs are unsuperseded. They also go into the preparation of an irresistible dessert which is suitable to be with any children's party. It is a simple thing to make from prepared pudding mixes.

Cereal crumbs will stretch meat pies and meat and vegetable pies. They are also used as a crust for pies and cakes.

Cereal crumbs can be used as a filling pie to thicken the pie and keep the pie from becoming wet. Use about 1 1/2 cups of corn flakes, Sprinkle crushed corn flakes over bottom crust before adding berries.

FLAKE MEAT LOAF

- 1 cup corn, wheat or wheat flakes
- 1 egg
- 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef (flank or chuck)
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 tsp. chopped parsley
- 1 tsp. chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
- 1/2 cup canned tomatoes
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. pepper

Crush cereal flakes finely. Beat egg lightly. Combine with all ingredients, mix thoroughly and pack into a loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1 1/2 hours. Makes one loaf 4x8x3 inches. Light to 10 servings.

DEVILED SEA FOOD

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 cup top milk
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 cup grated onion
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup flaked cooked sea food
- 1/2 cup shredded wheat biscuits
- 1/2 cup salt and pepper
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup paprika
- 1/2 cup top milk
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 cup grated onion
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup flaked cooked sea food
- 1/2 cup shredded wheat biscuits
- 1/2 cup salt and pepper

Melt shortening and add flour, salt and paprika. Stirring constantly, add the milk and cook until thickened. Remove from heat and add slightly beaten egg yolks, lemon juice, onion, Worcestershire sauce and sea food. Roll shredded wheat into balls. Add half the crumbs to the other ingredients. Pour into shells or greased ramekins. Sprinkle remaining crumbs over top and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

DANISH APPLE DESSERT

- 1 1/2 tsp. butter or margarine
- 3 cups corn, wheat or bran flakes
- 3 cups applesauce
- Melt butter in a small skillet. Crush and add cereal flakes and heat slowly until crisp and golden brown, stirring constantly. Place a thin layer of applesauce in dessert dishes. Add a layer of flakes. Then a layer of applesauce. Repeat, topping with applesauce. Serve with ice cream or fruit custard sauce. Makes 10 to 15.

Glamor Care for Feet

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

SUMMER MONTHS invariably point up foot ailments. Since the condition of your feet is reflected in your face... no fooling!... it is fitting that the bulwark of our stature get a little devoted attention so they can go forth in beauty as fashion decrees.

The "leg show" is on again... time for us girls to come out into the open on beaches, tennis courts, even on city streets... in cool, open-toed footwear... sporting 10 well pedicured toes to match 10 well manicured fingers. Naturally... more than just grooming them for heralded appearances on beaches and in open sandals... we must also give them care because unhappy feet cause furrows in your brow... and sharp edges in your disposition.

So before doling up the foot-sies by the nudist in footwear... lift yourself out of the doldrums at the end of a tiring day with this 15-minute treatment... using a foot cream and lotion and massaging as directed. Then pretty them up in the manner which we shall disclose.

After bathing the feet 5 minutes in warm water... rub on this foot cream... stretching each toe to its full length. Place the hands... fingertips touching... under the ball of the foot and pull up and back toward the heel and on up to the ankle with a strong, firm movement. Finish with a wiggling motion around the ankle. Repeat this exercise several times.

Remove the cream and apply the foot lotion. Get additional joy and pleasure out of this treatment by chilling both the cream and the lotion in the refrigerator. You will rejoice in the tingling, exhilarating effect.

A MIRACLE GADGET

With this new rekindling of spirit you'll just want to dress up the toenails... so they can be a beautiful sight to behold in the thong-type sandals... and all other open-toe footwear which now holds the style spotlight for smartness and chic. Like your fingernails... toenails must be pedicured. And if you want a miracle gadget... let me tell you about a unique cuticle remover which softens, shapes and removes the dead tissue around the toenail WITHOUT CUTTING and the danger of infection. It is a streamlined fountain shaper with magical liquid which is released with a slight pressure... a drop of fluid in the center of the nail... and spread with the shaper tip around the nail. Simply wipe away the dead cuticle with tissue or towel... and presto your nails are ready for the glamor touch of colored polish.

For the names of these foot treatment cream and lotion and for the magical toenail cuticle remover, phone the Beauty Dept., L1Berty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ACCENTUATING the leg-ative is part of summertime folderol... and thanks be that it is for coolth and comfort... but soft-peddaling the pedal extremities with devoted care and attention comparable to the loving tenderness we use in pampering our complexions... is just as necessary if "marching up and down again" isn't to get the better of our disposition and put a few dampening crinks into the power of our glance. Today when toenails are so highly glamorized in the nudity of open-toe and thong-type sandals... let's tend to the footsies. Alma Carroll... an RKO lovely... poses.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Monday—I came back to the country Saturday afternoon. My household had been augmented by three, but no one was as vociferously pleased to see me as Fala. When we go away he settles down very happily with whoever stays at home to look after him. Since a child has now come to play with him, his cup of joy is running over.

I told my young 6-year-old guest that I would show him our "Secret Woods." A wonderful pine grove where the needles have been falling for so long that you sink in and walk noiselessly, and where everything around you looks mysterious. You can imagine almost anything just across the brook or just behind the next tree.

MY DAY in Washington was interesting. In the morning I attended the ceremony when President Truman gave Mrs. Edwin Watson the Medal for Distinguished Service which my husband had planned to award to Gen. Watson. My husband was devoted to Gen. Watson, and I was very happy to be there.

I saw a number of people, members of Congress, some of the cabinet, and old friends. I was particularly glad that Mrs. Morgenthau was home at last and on her way to health and strength.

With sadness I saw my daughter and her husband and little Johnny Boettiger depart for Seattle, but she and her family can only be deeply grateful that her father and I were able to have her with us and to enjoy her company during the last year and a half. She meant a great deal to her father, and this was one of the strange by-products of the war which I count as a blessing. If her husband had not been away in the service she would not have been able to be with us.

ON THE TRAIN trip I read many of the things I have been saving up against the time when I could sit quietly without interruptions. Among the most interesting was the May issue of Survey Graphic, the 10th in the "Calling America" series which has as its subject the British and ourselves.

The lead article, by Herbert Agar, called "Our Last Great Chance." I think none of us should fail to read. It is a magnificent exposition of some of the problems and possibilities which lie before us in the near future. Simple enough for all of us to understand, it is backed by all of the author's experience of the past years in Europe.

Casual Suit Is Handy

By BETTINA BEDWELL

A LONG with the suit that is formal there are lots of casual suits designed particularly for hot weather in town.

The girl who feels best in a suit without too dressy a look is going to love these casual models, and wear them a lot. And just between us, such suits can go a lot of dressy places, too, if you change the blouse to something dressy.

One casual suit is sketched, and it's a beauty. Mollie Parnis gives this suit a graceful, drowsy place, too, a jacket of black rayon, with three-quarter length sleeves. She adds a skirt of the material in soft green, a skirt that has an easy flare, and is topped by a black belt.

A casual shirtwaist of pure white crepe is the perfect blouse.

23,060 Bet $997,285 as Racing Begins Here

By JACK CONWAY

THE SUFFOLK DOWNS opening was as impressive as Valdivia Craft's decisive victory in the $5000 added Governor's Handicap. An enthusiastic crowd of 23,060 persons that included Gov. Maurice J. Tobin and many other notable, wagered $997,285 on an

It was the biggest opening day crowd and handle in the 11-year history of the East Boston track.

In 1944, 20,016 persons were present on opening day and they wagered $933,107.

Pres. Allan Wilson and Eddie Goode, treasurer, were pleased with the fine manner in which the public received the return of King Horse to Massachusetts.

"The public did not realize how much it loved racing until it was taken away from it for a time," said Judge James E. Dooley, president of Narragansett Park. "The great opening day crowd at Suffolk Downs is additional proof of the popularity of racing."

Judge Dooley, Charles A. Connors, Judge McMahon and Jim Linehan were at Suffolk Downs for the Park delegation at the opening.

Lou Smith represented Rockingham Park, while George Conway, chairman of the New Hampshire Racing Commission, was at the track.

Chairman Louis Hoffman and Commissioners Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., and Harry Allen were at the opening to care for the duties of the Massachusetts Racing Commission. Charles F. Adams, who built Suffolk Downs, attended the buffet luncheon at the Paddock Club.

Apart from the big crowd and record handle, the racing was good. The operation of the big racing plant was conducted in perfect style. This was to be expected with Allan Wilson in charge as he was the first general manager of Suffolk Downs and has promoted trotting and pacing meetings in all parts of the United States.

Cavatorta Tired

CAVATORTA, expected by George Alexander to win the Governor's Handicap which has a net value of $1150, tired badly when reaching the far turn of the mile race, Valdivia Craft, under a perfect ride from George Seabo led almost from the start.

Cavatorta ran easily down the backstretch, but when he started to make his move on the far turn he showed signs of tiredness. Valdivia Craft pulled away and won easily. Dinner Party who usually runs a good race, finished third.

Horses that did well during the Narragansett Park meeting showed good form. Cake Gravy and Hill Sun were winners at Narragansett, and they also came down in front at the Suffolk Downs opening.

Random Shots at Target

DAVE FERRISS, sensational Red Sox rookie, proved great in defeat, according to Boston and New York baseball writers. . . . Now that Ferriss' eight-game winning streak has been broken he will not be playing under such a great mental strain. . . . He should go on to win many ball games for the Sox this season.

The value of a great pitcher is seen in the recent playing of the Sox and Braves. . . . Ferriss has been the spark plug of the Sox, while Mort Cooper has given the Braves a victory complex.

Hutchings Hurls for B's

By BILL GRIMES

BRAVES FIELD, June 12—After sweeping a three-game series from the Giants over the week-end, the Braves entertained the lowly Phillies in the first of a four-game series at the Wigwam this afternoon. They play a double-header tomorrow and windup with a single game on Thursday. Large John Hutchings was Manager Coleman's choice to hurl this afternoon while Whitlow Wyatt was sent in to oppose him.

Wally Flager, for whom the Phillies traded Kennedy, failed to show up with the Phils today.

Eddie Joost was given permission to go home and flew out of here for California this morning.

FIRST INNING

PHILLIES—Crawford walked. Antonelli singled. Wassell flied to Holmes. Fox walked, filling the bases. Triplett fouled to Mack. DiMaggio struck out. NO RUNS.

BRAVES—Culler was called out on strikes. Holmes lined to Wassell. Daniels threw out Mack. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

PHILLIES—Culler threw out Mancuso and Daniels. Wyatt struck out. NO RUNS.

BRAVES—Workman grounded out. Fox to Wyatt. Gillenwater singled. Masi got two bases when Crawford threw his grounder wild to second. Drews singled, scoring Gillenwater and Masi, but was out trying for second. Triplett to Wyatt to Daniels. Wietelmann fouled to Mancuso. TWO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

PHILLIES—Crawford flied to Holmes. Antonelli doubled. Wassell flied to Workman. Fox grounded to Wietelmann. NO RUNS.

BRAVES—Hutchings doubled. Culler sacrificed. Wyatt to Daniels who covered first. Holmes walked. Mack flied to Triplett. Hutchings scored after the catch. Holmes stole second. Workman hit his seventh home run of the season over the right field screen, scoring behind Holmes. Crawford threw out Gillenwater. THREE RUNS.

FOURTH INNING

PHILLIES—Triplett flied to Holmes. DiMaggio struck out. Mancuso struck out. NO RUNS.

BRAVES—Dinges went to center field for the Phillies. Masi flied to Wassell. Drews popped to Antonelli. Wietelmann singled. Hutchings singled, sending Wietel-mann to third. On the squeeze play, Culler bunted safely to third. Wietelmann scored. Hutchings taking second. Holmes rolled out Fox to Wyatt. ONE RUN.

McCarthy-Crosby Tops Twi List

The Park League's two Roxbury entrants—the young and aggressive McCarthy Club and the veteran Hal Crosby Club—will provide the major fireworks in tonight's league frays. The McCarthy-Crosby eruption is scheduled to take place at the spacious Fens Stadium at six. Both the McCarthy and Crosby's have been rolling along at a fast clip the past few weeks and their meeting has been looked forward to with heated interest by their followers.

The Linehan Club of South Boston with Joe Cunningham as their mainstay of the pitching staff set to go are expected to cop a brace of points at the expense of the luckless last place Roslindale Town Team, at the South Boston stadium.

The third scheduled encounter tonight brings the loop-leading Navy Yard A. A. to Billings Field in West Roxbury where they meet the Hicks Engineers. The sailors will send "Fibber" McGee to the mound while the Engineers will counter with Charlie Bishop.

Arcaro to Ride "Diver" in Preakness

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Hoop, Jr., winner of the Kentucky Derby, won't have Eddie Arcaro in the saddle Saturday when the Florida-owned three-year-old starts in the rich Preakness Stakes at Baltimore.

John Gaver, Greentree Stable trainer, said today he would start Devil Diver in the $50,000 Suburban Handicap at Belmont Saturday and that Arcaro would be up.

Bucky Walters Fails To Baffle Cards

By JACK HAND

Sherlock Holmes should get to work on the mysterious case of Bucky Walters vs. the St. Louis Cardinals. The baseball writers are about ready to give up.

In 1944, when the Red Birds had Stan Musial, Walker Cooper and an air-tight pitching staff that included Mort Cooper and Max Lanier, Walters had only to throw his glove on the hill and the world-champs-to-be rolled over and played dead.

Six straight times the converted third sacker threw his fast one and never once was he beaten. Four of the victories were shutouts and he yielded only four runs and 37 hits in 88 innings on the mound.

Now, with the Cards' big gun spiked—Musial and Walker Cooper in the Navy, Lanier wearing a soldier suit and Mort Cooper in Boston—Walters has trouble getting the side out in old St. Lou.

Three appearances against the world champs have failed to put any meat and potatoes on the Walters' family table. Twice he was knocked out and the other time he was ushered to an early shower after an argument with Umpire Lou Jorda in the second inning of a 0-0 game.

Pitted against Charley (Red) Barrett in last night's only major league contest, Bucky was belted out after yielding all the runs of a 5-0 shelling in the first two frames.

So the top winner of the National League a year ago, when he copped 23 games and tossed six shutouts, now has won four and lost six and been blanked four times. It's a strange twist of fate.

Despite Cooper's success with the Braves, owner Sam Breadon of the Cardinals can find justification for the deal in the fine performances of Barrett since he donned a Red devil suit. The "other guy" in the Cooper trade has won four of five for the champs and appears to be Southworth's most dependable starter. With all other clubs idle, the Cards climbed past Chicago into the first division on their triumph and trail New York by only 2½ games.

Off the records of the first eight weeks of the season, approximately one third, only Pittsburgh and Detroit, the two runner-up teams, have the stuff to win on the road where pennant clubs are supposed to maintain at least a 500 level.

The Pirates have had a tough time to gain an 11-10 edge away from home but the Tigers find the going easier away from Briggs Stadium for a 13-9 road record.

The Giants have the best home park percentage in either league, 17-4 for .810, followed by the Yanks who have lost only seven of 26 stadium starts.

Ankle Injury Keeps Steiner on Bench

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 12—Ben Steiner missed his first game in two years today as his Red Sox mates opened a three-game series with the A's in mid-summer weather.

The 23-year-old second baseman suffered a severe ankle injury Saturday in a collision with Russ Derry of the Yanks, and though he did manage to struggle through the Sunday game the ankle puffed up over Monday, preventing him from playing today.

He played every game at Louisville last year and played all 45 of the Sox games this year. Jack Tobin shifted to second, Jim Bucher went to third for the Sox. Pitchers today were Wilson for the Sox, Jesse Flores for the A's. Connie Mack switched his batting lineup, leading off with George Kell and sending Charley Metzro down to the seventh spot.

FIRST INNING

RED SOX—Lake singled, Bucher singled, Metkovich doubled scoring Lake and when Peck fumbled the ball Bucher scored and Metkovich took third. Johnson walked, Fox lined to Kell who stepped on third doubling up Metkovich. Johnson stole second. Tobin flied to Estellella. TWO RUNS.

ATHLETICS—Kell flied to Johnson. Peck singled. Siebert popped to Bucher. Estellella walked. Rosar fouled to Bucher. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

RED SOX—Culberson flied to Estellella. Garbark singled. Wilcox hit into a double play, Wilkins to Hall to Siebert. NO RUNS.

ATHLETICS—Hall singled. Metzro flied to Johnson. Wilkins forced Hall, Bucher to Tobin. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

RED SOX—Lake flied to Estellella. Bucher lien to Peck. Metkovich singled. Johnson fouled to Rosar. NO RUNS.

TODAY A YEAR AGO—St. Louis Cardinals set a major league double play record with nine in a twin bill against Cincinnati.

FIVE YEARS AGO—The Cardinals traded outfielder Joe Medwick and pitcher Curt Davis to Brooklyn for Ernie Koo, Carl Doyle, two minor leaguers and an estimated $100,000 in cash.

Capt. M. A. Durbin, commanding officer of the Cleveland induction station, said the Tribe pilot failed to pass his physical examination because of "bad ankles."

Boudreau was turned down last season because of arthritic ankles. The Indians' boss expected to board a noon train for Chicago and arrive in time for the series opener against the White Sox tonight.

STEELERS SIGN WORCESTER GRIDDER
PITTSBURGH, June 12 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers announced today the signing of Paul Durhart of Worcester, Mass., their first choice in the National Football League draft. Durhart, a University of Florida graduate this spring, played halfback with the champion Green Bay Packers last fall under a special dispensation from the league.

The Steelers also signed John Lucente of McKeesport and formerly Clarkburg, W. Va., who starred at fullback for West Virginia U.

CHICAGO—Colton Brown, 162, Chicago, outpointed Veece Van 170, Milwaukee (8); Charley Jerome, 155, Memphis, outpointed Ted Newsome, 170, Chicago (5).

Tommy Holmes

Batting Leader

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Tommy Holmes of Boston again took over the National League batting lead today from Mel Ott of New York as aces Tony Cuccinello of Chicago continued to show the way in the American.

Holmes rode past Ott with a total of 14 hits in seven straight victories by the Braves for a .386 average in figures including Sunday's games. Ott had fallen off to .371 but that was good enough for second position and 22 points higher than Cuccinello's leading percentage of .349.

Nick Eiten of the New York Yankees was Cuccinello's closest rival at .338, adding 17 points in a batting spree during the past week while the White Sox veteran dropped six degrees.

Ernie Lombardi of the Giants missed the list of first 10 hitters being replaced by Chicago's Andy Pafko who was hitting .316 but the hottest hitter in the National was Brooklyn's Goody Rosen at a .360 level, good for third place.
